Foreword

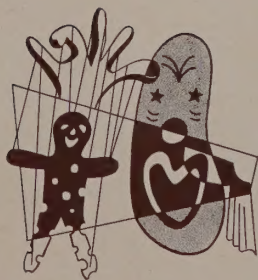

A foreword usually introduces the reader, with a brace of well-chosen words, to Muskingum's junior class efforts at producing a yearbook. Here they are. This year's MUSCOLJUAN didn't just happen—it took large quantities of time, patience, and adrenalin. For the very able assistance given by the staff, the editors extend their hearty thanks.

This is the book it took nearly a year to produce. Some will leaf through it immediately in quest of their own profiles beaming happily from beneath the photographer's flashbulbs; others will all but memorize each page from beginning to end.

Whichever category you, the reader, fall into, the editors and staff sincerely hope that the book meets with full approval. We feel that it will afford any who scan the pages many hours of reminiscences. It has been calculated to bring back this college year in pictorial review and to give a camera-eye view of Muskingum.

Community Council

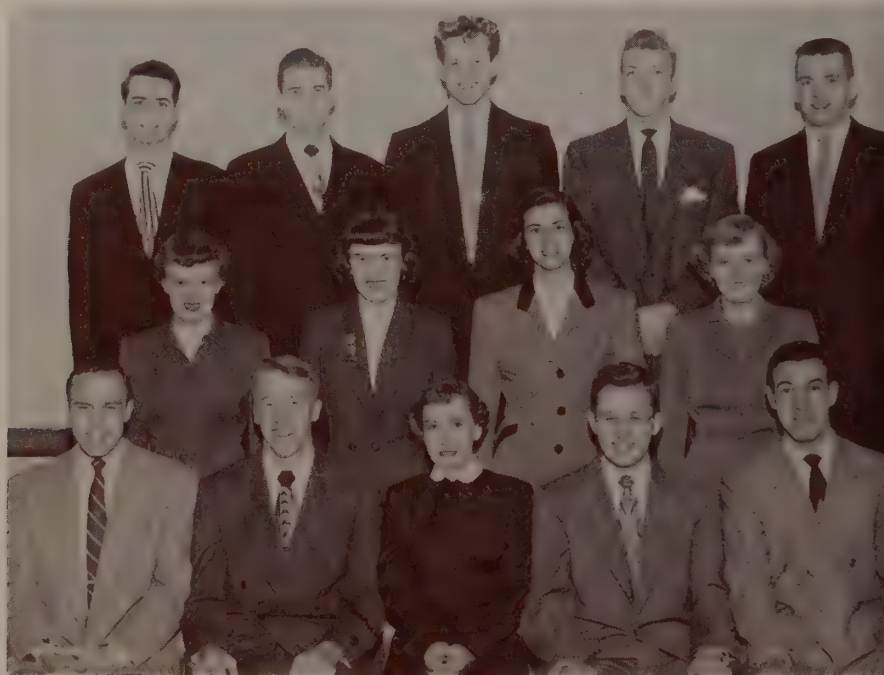

Community Council made great strides in the year of 1951-1952 towards uniting the campus under the community co-operation concept. Under the leadership of the co-chairmen—Dick Giffen and Dr. R. N. Montgomery—Community Council accomplished some very worth while projects. A radio transmitter was built which will serve the campus, a health insurance program was made available to all students, more work was accomplished on Brown Chapel Lounge re-organization, a blood bank was brought to the campus and many other projects were started which will serve the campus in later years.

A senior at last! You won't talk to a Senior very long before he expounds on student teaching, seminars, graduation, placement papers and a job, and with future plans of marriage in some cases. Along with the seriousness of being a Senior, and completing all the requirements for graduation, we have time for the faculty take-off, Senior walk-out, May Day and the honor of being guests of the Junior Class at Sejuna.

The senior year brings many privileges such as 11:30's every night, unlimited nights out, and chapel attendance is not required the last nine weeks of school. The greatest thrill is to look back over the pleasant memories of our four happy and successful years as students in Muskingum College.

This year it was the class of '53's chance to show what capable juniors they could be. It proved to be a busy year, and we were now upperclassmen and proud of our standing.

We were anxious to stand by the whirling wheel of social responsibilities that were ours. The planning started early on the big dance of the year, Sejuna. Many projects were needed to raise funds for our big objective. Here we showed our spirit by the enthusiasm of the class as it pulled together through a successful year. As you turn the pages of this book remember that the Muscoljuan is further proof of our class members' capability.

Any time anything was needed to be done a junior was called on to do it. The seniors were too busy graduating, and although the sophomores were itching to be swamped with extra activities, they had to wait till the class of '53' were seniors.

We have had a wonderful time and have worked hard in making our year a success. We leave the responsibility to the class of '54'; we are moving on as seniors. We are ready for the final test.

Sophomores are in that transitional stage between blissful freshman ignorance and the V.I.P. (very important person) attitude of juniors. Achieving a very happy medium, the Class of 1954 has completed a successful year in 1951-1952.

Among the things we want to remember is the Soph Hop, "Black Magic". The first big dance of the year, it was carried off with a grand and mysterious style, with queen and attendants supplying beauty. Another project engineered and carried out by sophomores was Dink Week, a period designed to properly break in our freshman charges. Dink Week was topped off by a constructive "Work Day", something new on Muskingum's campus.

Besides working for our own class, we have provided many leaders and workers on campus-wide organizations. Sophomores can be found in responsible places of every activity conceivable—debate, campus politics and government, honoraries, athletics and other organizations.

We, as a freshman class, came to Muskingum in September, not fully aware of the change that was to come over our lives. We were a bewildered group of "tenderfoots" in a new world.

After a month of college life, however, we found ourselves participating in all of those things which had been promised when we were still in the "high-school set"—studies, parties, tests and dances. Freshman week seemed far in the past as we went about in this different routine brought on by our new environment.

In the beginning we were individuals, but as the year progressed we became an organized group—a functioning organization on campus. Our first project was to organize and publish the "Freshman Flash". Later in the year, the annual Freshman dance was up-most in our minds and we worked to make it the high-light of our first year.

The joy and feeling of satisfaction we now feel toward college in the educational and the social light, can not be put into few words. We have learned to love Muskingum and have come to appreciate her traditions. At the present time, we eagerly anticipate our future years of college life here, on a friendly college campus.

The All College Social Committee is an organization that provides diversified entertainment for the campus. Included among their events this year were: the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance, Skating Parties, Brown Lounge Open House, Gilbert and Sullivan productions on screen and stage, and many other social activities. The Social Committee is also responsible for both the Thanksgiving and Christmas Formals. After-the-game dances during football and basketball season were often sponsored by the Committee this past year.

The purpose of the All College Social Committee is to integrate and balance the social life of the students. The group is continually looking for new ideas in student entertainment as well as means of broadening the social life of the campus.

This year, under the presidency of Shirley Price and the program chairmanship of Jack White, the organization carried out their purpose. Sponsoring such activities as an open theatre, a set design contest, arena type and impromptu plays, and a Christmas program presenting the story of "The Other Wiseman", the Players acquainted the public with many aspects of drama.

Invitation to membership to this organization is offered each semester to those who have participated in one dramatic enterprise and enrolled in a second, or have participated in Junior Speech Recital, or Junior or Senior Play.

Black and Magenta Staff

The Black and Magenta, under the co-editorship of Ruth Ann Thompson and Richard Moore, tried to increase its service to the college community in a variety of ways. With a reorganization of responsibilities, schedules, and deadlines, the staff co-operated to accomplish its work efficiently and tried not to jeopardize the routine functioning of each staff division.

The B & M changed its home during the year from Cambridge Hall to Brown Chapel Lounge. The new office was arranged to encourage the utmost efficiency of each member of the staff.

A spring banquet was held for the members of the staff. At that time, the best reporter award and membership cards were distributed in accordance with the merit system.

The uppermost goal was to have only the immediate news of the week in each issue. Each article, feature, column, and editorial strove to present a phase of college life pertinent to each student and members of the faculty. To cover all news, a beat system was established; to convey the news clearly, principles of journalistic writing were taught in which accuracy, interest, and an unbiased approach were stressed. To better the appearance of the paper, more pictures and various type faces were used.

The editorial policy sought to stimulate interest and combat indifference in the college community. A definite stand was taken on various issues that arose.

Women's Activities League

The Women's Activities League, under the leadership of Celia Hill, is the women's self-governing organization, of which each Muskingum woman is a member. Its purpose, which is to foster the highest standards on intellectual and social life, is carried on through the functioning of several committees whose chairmen meet once a week with the executive board. The Judiciary Board is also a very important phase of W. A. L.

Throughout the year, the Women's Activities League sponsors the Lantern Parade, Monday afternoon Coffee Hours, Fort Exchanges, Christmas Bazaar, the house-mother's tea, and other activities as the occasion demands.

W. A. A.

The purpose of the Women's Athletic Association is to promote fellowship among its members and to serve the student body as a whole. This year the organization was under the able leadership of president Jean Campbell, advisors, Miss Irene Horner, Miss Edith Riley, Miss Paula Keiser, and Miss Fran Sengleitner, and the W.A.A. Board.

During the year the organization sponsored many activities. The women's intramural program, including such sports as badminton, tennis, bowling, swimming, volley ball, basketball, archery, soft ball, hockey, and golf was a great success. The Sport Nights, the Square Dances, the Play Days, and the Aquacade, Dance Recital, and cook-outs were all under the direction of the W.A.A. May Day is the biggest event of the year.

The biggest achievement this year was the forming of a freshmen board and the redecorating of the W.A.A. Lounge in the Gymnasium.

Orchestra

Under the demanding guidance of its director, Mr. John Kendall, the Muskingum College Orchestra met each Monday evening for rehearsal, presenting several programs through the year.

The first of these was a homecoming concert, presented jointly with the A Cappella choir, in which the orchestra performed selections including the overture to Dido and Aeneas by Purcell. During the Christmas Season, the orchestra gave, with the Choral Society, its customary performance of the Messiah. The climax of the year's work was the spring concert, in which the orchestra played the Fifth Symphony of Schubert and the Beethoven Violin Concerto. Soloist for the latter was Nathan Gottschalk, faculty member of the Oberlin Conservatory.

The orchestra gave an appreciation concert for children of the local grade school.

The Choral Society is made up of a group of students interested in music and singing. The group meets every Monday night with Mr. Pickering, director, and Mr. Schnitker, pianist, and prepares "The Messiah" which they present in December. The choir gives the Messiah with the orchestra accompaniment under the direction of Mr. Kendall.

The most important work of the choir was the spring tour, which touched Richmond, Indiana, St. Louis, Des Moines, Chicago, and Detroit. The concerts were presented in United Presbyterian Churches in these cities. The motet "Jesu, Priceless Treasure" by J. S. Bach was the tour de force of the program. Others included in the program were "Crucifixus" by Lotti, and "O Magnum Mysterium" by Vittoria. The home concert in Brown Chapel was presented soon after the return from the tour.

Thanksgiving Formal

On November 17th, the campus relaxed for a night, forgot its troubles, and took a "Holiday in Paris". For weeks everyone wondered about this formal which promised better quality for lower prices. Anticipation was increased by novel forms of publicity.

The gym was decorated as a Parisian sidewalk cafe. Entering under a unique canopy, the dancers took a table on either side of the floor or danced to music provided by Glen Sheridan and his orchestra.

Refreshments were served during the evening by waiters in white jackets and Bev Lindsay and Joyce Williams entertained with a French song. The climax of the evening was the mad scramble for balloons which were dropped from a huge balloon hanging from the ceiling.

Carol Carlson and Jim Bichsel, co-chairmen of the dance, should be congratulated for a wonderful evening.

Sejuna

Dancing on a southern Patio, Muskingum co-eds in summer formal dress enjoyed an evening of dancing and entertainment provided for them by the Junior Class. April 18 was a beautiful evening and it made complete the setting for the crowning of the Junior Class and Senior Class Queens, Miss Kitty Baldrige and Miss Joanne Hostetler. The Queens were attended by Miss Marge Brown, Miss June Ann Michael, Miss Nancy Russell, and Miss Joan Lofstrom.

Co-chairmen of the Sejuna, Joyce Cosby and Jim Bichsel, made possible a very wonderful Sejuna with the capable help of their committee. Eddie Kadel and his orchestra provided music and entertainment throughout the evening.

The Life Service Group is an organization for those who are planning to be servants of Christ in whatever vocation they enter. To accomplish the purpose of the group, "To know Christ and to make Christ known," its work is divided into three phases. The first is the Sabbath Morning Devotional Meeting held each Sabbath morning in the Y. M. C. A. room of Brown Chapel. A different member of the group leads this half-hour service each Sabbath. The other phases of Life Service's work are the Gospel and Caravan Teams. The Gospel Teams present worship and youth meetings to churches within a fifty mile radius of New Concord. Weekend Caravan Teams are made up of students who receive special training in recreation, youth work, and conducting worship services, and these teams present a weekend of services. In the past the Caravan Teams have gone to Steubenville, Akron, Canton, Frenchburg, Kentucky; and to other churches nearer to New Concord.

Y.M.C.A. Cabinet

The Young Men's Christian Association of Muskingum College is a fellowship of student and faculty men dedicated to fostering Christian activities pursuant to stimulating loyalty to Christ, His ideals both in personal living and in working toward a new society.

The Y. M. Cabinet under the leadership of Gene Mast, has been acting in presenting a weekly program in addition to some of the other projects for which they are responsible.

Y. M. is an organization whose framework is such as to permit the integration of other campus organizations for men.

"We are laborers together with God." Under this motto, our program has been varied and has included spiritual meditation, parties for orphans in neighboring communities, sing-spirations, special holiday programs, the Winter Carnival, the Pink Tea, the Big and Little Sisters, and the Apple Blossom Festival.

We feel our greatest achievement has been the successful institution of our two chapters—a freshmen and an upper class chapter. In the past, Y. W. has had trouble holding the interest of both groups of girls because their desires were different. With a freshmen chapter the Freshmen are not only getting excellent training in leadership but we have been able to satisfy the desires of both groups.

The Men's Interclub Council has two primary objectives; to encourage club activities and to promote a better spirit of friendship and cooperation among the men's clubs.

The Interclub Council, made up of the presidents and two other representatives from each club, meet once a month. This year, under the leadership of Ned Bixler, president, the council set up some new policies such as: a better freshmen orientation program, grade point ratio requirement, and setting up a sound financial system. This year the council and president's committee have strived to develop an attitude of cooperation and worthwhile advancement around the campus. By intelligently discussing the issues confronting men's clubs, many conclusions were reached, many of which will become possible solutions for similar problems in the future.

Alban: John Barron, James Borton, Ed Carlson, Lester Hill, John Patterson, Walt Resler, Akira Shigemo, Art Smith, Howard Zittlosen, and Bert Heister.

Striving onward for bigger and better successes, the Alban club continued climbing upward. This year the Albans added among the many laurels, the first prize for house decoration at Homecoming, a fall serenade which took the men on a song trip down south, redecoration of part of the house at 152 Montgomery Blvd., a spring serenade, and ending the year with the spring formal at Belmont Hills Country Club.

As usual the Albans have contributed to the college community by heading such organizations as Student and Community Councils, Social Committee, Y. M. C. A., Phi Mu Alpha, Alpha Epsilon Delta, Alpha Sigma Mu, and being active members in other campus activities.

Upholding the colors scarlet and grey, and remembering the words, "We are loyal Alban brothers," the men have worked together to maintain a unity of perfection which has characterized their college life and will aid them in their future life.

This year the Mace presented that long awaited Mace Serenade, the first in several years. Other activities included in our program were the open house, a few post serenade snacks for girls' clubs, house parties, the annual Christmas Lounge Party, and the Spring Formal Dinner Dance. Of course any list of Mace social activities would hardly be complete without mention of the usual intra-house raiding parties with the resultant trading of trophies, furniture and feelings of accomplishment.

The Mace Men have their serious aspects also. They have taken part in most extra-curricular activities, athletics, student government, honoraies, and the school newspaper.

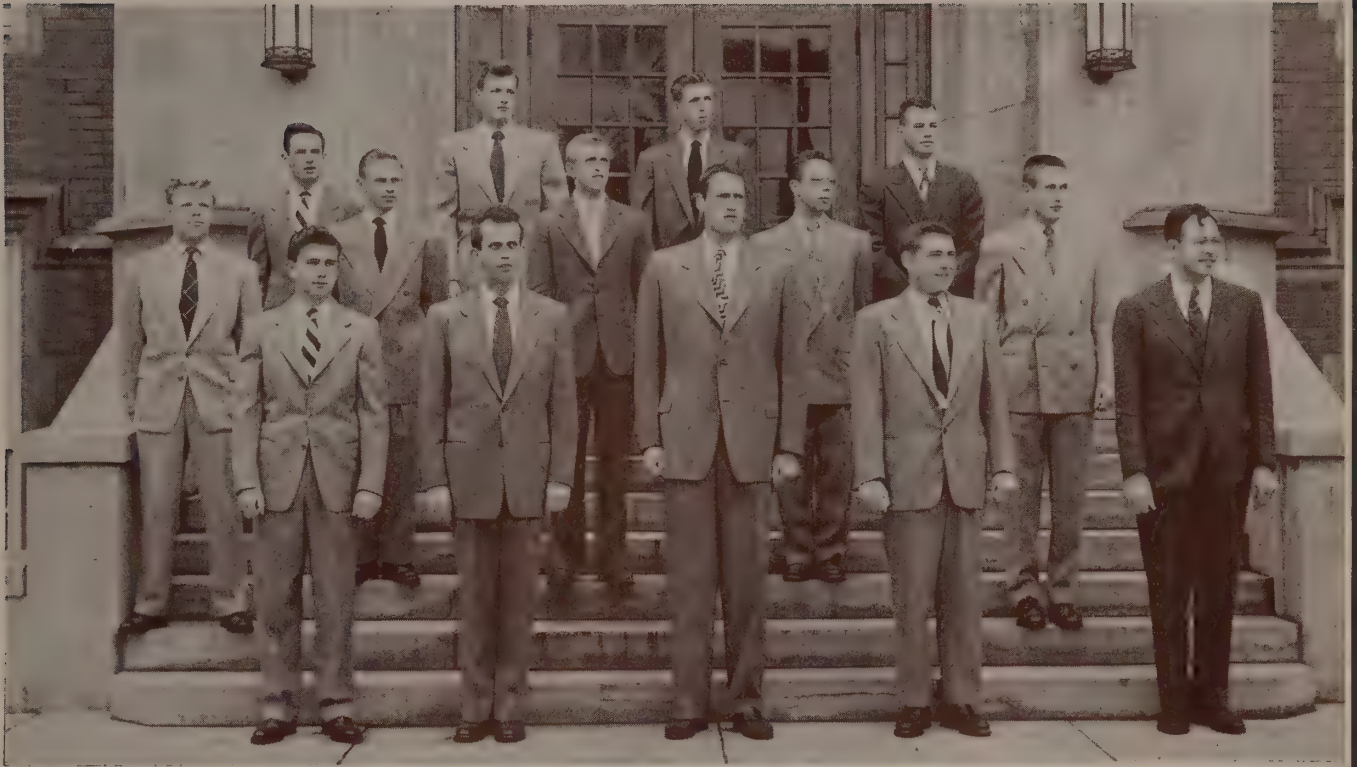

Under the leadership of Dick Ferguson, the club has completed its 29th year with many fond memories of the past years.

The Sphinx Club has had a highly successful year. Socially the club has been an integral part of the community, and there has been an active participation in intra-mural sports and numerous other college sponsored functions.

The Sphinx Club has always attempted to maintain a well balanced membership, rather than favor one group or type. Its members realize the responsibility of upholding the ideals of the club, the college and the community.

Stag

Under the capable guidance of President Arnold Plum, the Stag Club, in its usual tradition since its organization in 1909, again this year has played a prominent role in Muskingum's campus life.

The Stags are well-represented in numerous phases of college activities: members this year actively participated on the Debate team, and in other scholastic endeavors; hardly an intercollegiate sporting event has taken place without Stags on the team; nor has the social aspect of college life been neglected, for the new clubhouse, now in its second year of existence, has proven to be an excellent site for informal get-togethers and parties.

The clubhouse has unified and strengthened the Stag Club to a greater degree than ever before, better enabling it to further Muskingum's and each individual member's interests.

Strange as it may seem, the club which derived its name from those men of wisdom, the Stoic philosophers of ancient Greece, began its existence in a house called the "Fools' Mansion". In the fall of 1917, Fred Erwin, Walter Scott, and Jack Sawyer roomed in back of Paul Hall. This group in conjunction with several others formed the Stoic Club on April 21, 1918. In 1948 the club moved to the "Castle on the Corner," where they are still located.

The alumni association, started in 1926, now has an active membership of over 200 members.

Since the club was started many men have entered the bond, lived together for three years, added their bit to the history of the club, and then departed. Even as these men entered into a career and the routine of everyday living, still they remain loyal Stoics.

Ulster: Harold Tidball, Jim Rouse, Bob Meute, George Dahl, Doug Potter and Seigen Miyasato.

Four years ago several men gathered together to talk about "going club". They decided that the college could use another one and so took appropriate steps in that direction. Thus the Ulster Club was formulated and got its charter in 1948. Last year the "founding fathers" graduated leaving an excellent record in all fields of campus activity. We, the present members, under President Bill Fischer, are trying to live up to those standards.

Interest in out-of-class activity is evidenced by Ulstermen in positions of leadership in fields of social, forensic, music, student government, B & M, WSSF, Y. M. C. A., and other campus activities.

Last year we became permanent possessors of the Scholarship Cup.

Our social activities included house parties, a lounge party, an all-college Open House, and our Spring Formal.

Club Roundup

Let's stop for a minute and look back over the year to see what club life is like on Muskingum's Campus. In the fall we return to school to find the rooms we will be living in and at once the ladders and paint brushes come out and in one week the whole place looks different. Burt looks different too, doesn't he? Some even went as far as to undertake wall papering. And oh, those bull sessions that take up half the time we spend in college. Looks like Lois told the joke! Homecoming finds all the club members putting their heads together to plan some clever decorations for houses and floats. Peg stops working long enough to greet Kianu Alum and the Stoics prepare a hospital for our opponents. When Christmas rolls around all the clubs plan their Christmas parties and the Mace have their annual Christmas Lounge Party. Looks as if Santa brought Dr. Grady a present at the Ulster party. As soon as the houses are in "spick and span" order it is time to throw the blue jeans in the back of the closet and get out the formals and the Sunday suits for club open house. The Konas celebrated theirs with their tenth anniversary this year. Ah, back from Christmas vacation and then club rushing begins. But, best of all is "hell week" and we see Phyl eating spaghetti with a potato masher at the Delta house. Um—Good! The Winter Carnival gives opportunity for clubs to work together, each making a booth, and adding to a fun packed evening. Yes, that's Dick Shaw and Deane Smiley. Spring brings around the club formals and there is a mad dash for dates and much to do over the favors received at the gala affairs. Spring also is the time of the Apple Blossom Festival. Joe really got the pie in the face. Let's go down for a mid-night snack like the Athalas are here and then return to our work.

Women's Interclub Council is a group composed of a sophomore, a junior, and the president of each club. Its main objective is to foster better relations and co-operation among Muskingum's six women's clubs. Dinner meetings are held monthly in the various club houses where any problems relating to clubs are solved. Interclub also regulates all rules pertaining to rushing and bidding and joins with Men's Interclub to co-sponsor many college services. This year the Interclubs were in charge of the Dad's Day Tea.

The Athala's started out the school year by moving into their new house at 114 Thompson Avenue. Everyone enjoyed the fireplace in the living-room, especially on those chilly winter evenings.

With the help of our president, Joan Mosser and our advisor, Mrs. George, we have had a very happy year together.

As the newest girl's club on campus, the Athala's celebrated their fifth birthday on March 17, with a birthday party at the grange. Other social affairs which were held during the year were the Serenade, the Lounge Party in Santa Land and the Spring Formal at the Cambridge Country Club, May 2. The last social event before graduation was the Traditional Senior Party.

Delta

The year 1951-52 has been a busy one for the Deltas at their "castle green and black." Our accomplishments have been many and the fun we have had together only goes along to carry out the tradition of our "love and loyalty" to each other.

In the early part of the school term the "Delts" put their heads together and came up with a second prize for our Homecoming float, "Sewing Up Denison." Throughout the winter and spring the big white house on Bloomfield Road got a face lifting when we displayed our talents for re-decorating. In the fall the football team got a taste of some good Delta food, while later in the season the campus was presented with a serenade of Delta songs. At the annual Winter Carnival the Deltas were awarded first prize for their work on "The Bunny Burrow."

Because of interest in community affairs and the wide range of personalities in the Delta Club, we have been represented in student government, musical organizations, women's athletics, honoraries, debate, newspaper and beauty queens.

Under the guidance of President Judy Praker and Faculty Sponsor Mrs. Dwight Balentine, the thirty-third year of the Delta Club's existence has been very happy and profitable. We are looking forward to many more years of Delta sisterhood, traditions and ideals.

The F.A.D.'s started with a bang this year by winning first place awards in the women's club house decorations and the women's club floats at Homecoming. We were also very proud of our Ginny Bichsel, Homecoming Queen.

During the year we put our efforts into our serenade, the booth for the Winter Carnival, the Club Fadian Lounge Party, the Square Dance in Norwich, house parties, initiating new members, cooking supper for the football team, and attending our Spring Formal at the Zanesville Country Club.

Under the guidance of Nancy Russell, and Mrs. Layton, we have had a prosperous year in F.A.D. under our ideals of loyalty and friendship.

The Wawyin Club, chartered in 1925, was originally called Phi Beta Psi. When Greek letter names were banned on Muskingum's campus, the club chose the coined Hebrew word, Wawyin, meaning friendship. For twenty-six years, the Wawyins have held this virtue as their motto.

At home under their triangular crest at 156 Montgomery Boulevard, the Wawyins have had a big year under the leadership of Ruth Ann Thompson, president, and Mrs. Milo Milanovich, advisor. One big change was eating co-ed style with the Sphinx fellows. Other highlights were the fall cook-out, the "swing your partner" dances, the serenade, house parties, the lounge party, and especially the

In addition to club activities, the Wawyin girin housemother, also enjoyed these club sessions.

In addition to club activities, the Wawlin girls have taken an active part in a variety of other campus functions during the year.

Freshmen Counselors

These twenty-four freshman counselors are the wonderful people who could answer, or at least try to answer, the questions of the Class of 1955, this year's incoming freshman class. Living in the freshman dormitories, they provided innumerable services in helping freshmen to adjust to college life.

The girl's counseling system is sponsored by the Women's Activities League, while the Dean of Men's Office is responsible for the men's program. Donna Durigg and Bob Wilson are the student advisors.

All Home Economics Club members are girls interested in home economics and usually enrolled in at least one course in the department. The club sponsored a booth at the WAL bazaar and sponsored bake sales frequently so that the students could get some of those "longed for" home baked foods. The club meets every two weeks on Tuesday afternoon. Besides having the regular business meetings we have had several speakers and parties throughout the year. Each year the club sends several girls to other campuses for home economics conventions.

Joy Fulks as president led the club this year with the assistance of Kathleen White, vice president; Julia Krichbaum, secretary; and Joanne Oellig, treasurer. Mrs. Crystal Boyer served as our able advisor and Mrs. Charles Kruzan was our assistant advisor.

Debate

The debate team brought Muskingum national honors this year when they took first honors in the National Tau Kappa Alpha debate tournament. Twenty-four colleges from 16 states from Vermont to New Mexico participated in the tournament. All four Muskingum debaters were picked by the judges to be among the 12 best individual debaters in the tournament. Ninety-six persons participated.

The Muskingum debaters won all ten rounds. Bill Fischer and Arnie Plum argued the negative side of the question and Dwight Jeffrey and Bob Larson the affirmative. The question under debate was: Resolved, that the Federal Government should adopt a permanent program of wage and price control.

The Muskingum debaters won second place in the Ohio state tournament. They have won first honors in Ohio nine times under Dr. Layton's coaching.

Muskingum has two debate organizations, Tau Kappa Alpha, the national honorary society, and the Forensic Club, a local organization. Arnold Plum and Bob Larson are the student members of TKA.

Senior Women's Honorary

Senior Women's Honorary is an organization for outstanding senior women. Each spring not more than 10% of the women of the junior class are tapped for membership on the basis of scholarship, leadership, creativeness, desire for growth, and world-mindedness.

This organization does not seek to sponsor any specific activities on campus, but meets each month as a group to exchange ideas and to discuss issues of importance. There are six members this year and three faculty sponsors. Officers are Isabelle Leasure, president, and Sally McBride, secretary. Mrs. Charles Layton, Mrs. Hughes Barnes, and Miss Cora I. Orr are sponsors while Miss Beulah Brown is an honorary member.

The O.O.O.O. is a local honorary fraternity for junior, senior, and faculty men. It was established in 1936 for the equally important objectives of service to Muskingum College and recognition of student leaders. The fraternity attempts to foster the traditions and ideals of Muskingum College and to develop a spirit of leadership and cooperation in the student body. New members are chosen by the active members according to a strict set of standards including promise, character, and improvements. A traditional "tapping" ceremony each spring notifies members of their election. Many matters were discussed during the school year. The organization does not seek publicity and its actions are seldom recognized outside the group.

CWENS

The Muskingum Zeta Chapter of Cwens aims to foster leadership, scholarship, and fellowship among women of the sophomore class, and to promote the leadership among freshmen women.

The Freshmen saw the Cwen grey skirts, red weskits, and white blouses during Freshman Week for they helped a great deal during that week. This uniform is also worn every Monday when the Cwens meet at the Manse with their sponsor, Mrs. Montgomery.

The Cwens have spent a busy year sponsoring a bake sale, assisting at the WAL Lantern Parade, selling refreshments at the Homecoming Game and the Winter Carnival, and having get-acquainted parties with Freshmen women.

Football

Coach Ed Sherman's Muskies were a marked team as they began their 1951 grid schedule. Champions of the Ohio Conference and undefeated by loop foes two years in a row, they were the team to beat. Although the loss of many veteran stars through graduation had reduced their potency, somewhat, the Muskies accepted the challenge of a rugged slate of opponents and emerged from the season with the very highly respectable record of five wins, two losses and a tie.

Their Sept. 29th opening was one of the toughest a Muskie team had faced in many years. The vaunted Baldwin-Wallace Yellow-Jackets were the foe. A smooth-working Muskie offense and a rock-ribbed defense gave the Muskies the victory, however, 23-19.

Defending their O. C. crown for the first time in 1952, Muskingum opened the home season with a 13-13 tie with the tough-as-usual Heidelberg Student Princes. Slippery Rock and Wooster next fell before the Muskies to the tune of 20-7 and 31-8, respectively, as the Muskie machine swung into high gear.

A capacity homecoming crowd was thrilled by one of the hardest-fought games of the season but they saw the Muskies denied an Ohio Conference victory for the first time in sixteen games as the Denison Big Red triumphed by the margin of a point after touchdown, 21-20.

The Muskies defeated the Mairretta Pioneers, 34-7, on the muddy Marietta field in the worst football weather imaginable.

Season's records pointed to the Muskingum-Ohio Wesleyan game as the tilt of the season in the conference but it proved to be a nightmare for the Muskie contingent. The roof fell in on the Black and Magenta as the Bishops romped off with a 69-6 victory.

The season finale put the Muskies back on the victory track as Otterbein became their fifth victim, 48-19.

Tough luck dogged the Muskies' steps throughout the season as two concussions, a cracked vertebrae and a broken nose sidelined outstanding Muskie players from time to time. Several freshmen and sophomores distinguished themselves and are marked for potential stardom, however.

Don Pinhey, the team's ace ball carrier, was named All-Ohio Conference halfback and made the second team, All-Ohio. He was top man in the conference in punting and in yards-per-carry (7.6) and second highest scorer (78 points). He was granted a try-out by the Ottawa club of the Canadian Professional Football League.

Pinhey was named most valuable player. Babe Accorsi won the "most efficient" award on offense and Dick Hendren on defense.

Coach Mac Mariner entered the basketball season with foreboding because he had lost four of the starting five that had won the Ohio Conference championship the year before. Besides, his best reserve players had graduated.

With only three lettermen returning, Coach Mariner faced the season with an almost entirely green squad. Improvement was evident in every game, however, and the Muskies ended the season with nine victories and eight defeats, thus keeping intact Mariner's record of never having had a losing season. In the Ohio Conference, the Muskies took fourth place in the 14-member loop with eight wins and three losses.

Paradoxically, two of the Muskies' best games were losses. They barely lost to Youngstown by two points after Youngstown had defeated La Salle, the N. I. T. champs, by 11 points. Their defensive gem was a 42-49 loss to Miami (O.), a top-rated team which had upset the great Dayton Flyers.

Muskingum entered the Mid-West Tournament in Terre Haute, Ind., during Christmas vacation but was eliminated in the first round by Indiana Central. The Mariners won the tourney the year before.

Don Simon, only returning member of the 1950-51 starting five, won the most valuable player award and was named to the Associated Press All Ohio Conference first team. Ralph Washburn won the foul shooting trophy. Letter winners were Simon, Washburn, Phil Allen, Bob Stokes, Bill Geyer, Charlie Schoeppner, Gary Pike, Jerry Carlson, Myron Archer, and Jim Nichols.
